

Lindsey Howley biography

I graduated from the British School of Osteopathy (BSO) in 1983 and have been practising osteopathy for 30 years.

In addition to practice life I have always been involved in osteopathic education. I have many years of experience in clinical education at the BSO and several years of experience as an internal and external clinical assessor. I have also worked as an assessor for the General Osteopathic Council marking further evidence of practice questionnaires.

I am married with two grown up daughters and live in Wanstead, London. I enjoy art, theatre, travelling and family life.
