

Rachel Ives biography

Rachel initially studied biology at Kings College, London, then qualified as an osteopath in 1993, when she gained a Diploma in Osteopathy from the College of Osteopaths.

She has worked part time in private practice for twenty years and currently runs her own practice in Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk.

Her career has also involved extensive work within osteopathic education, and she has worked as a senior manager, senior lecturer, clinic tutor and research tutor at the College of Osteopaths. She successfully graduated with a Masters in Education Management from Greenwich University in 2005. She also works as an assessor for the General Osteopathic Council, as an osteopathic visitor for the Quality Assurance Agency and has fulfilled a range of external reviewer roles in various osteopathic schools and colleges of physical therapy.
