

Case-based discussions and reflecting, recording and reviewing CPD

In the 'Countdown to CPD', special edition of the osteopath: Early Adopters try out new methods and talk about the benefits of case-based discussions. Also in this edition:

- CPD: how you are reflecting, recording and reviewing
- What you need to know about the new CPD scheme
- How the PROMs app makes getting patient feedback even easier

Read this and more in the June/July edition of the osteopath.

GOsC passes PSA review

The GOsC has been given a clean bill of health for its work as a regulator for the seventh year in succession by the Professional Standards Authority for Health and Social Care (PSA). Read the full report of: PSA Annual Review of Performance 2016/17 of the GOsC.

What do you think about evidence-based practice?

A research team led by Dr Oliver Thomson

Use the latest edition of IJOM for your CPD

The latest edition of the International Journal from the British School of Osteopathy in collaboration with researchers from Sweden and Australia, is conducting the Evidence-Based Practice Attitude and Utilization SurVEy (EBASE) into osteopaths' attitudes, skills and use of evidence-based practice.

The results of the research may be helpful in informing and guiding future osteopathic practice and education in this area. The survey, which is confidential, will take 10 minutes to complete by the closing date of 19 July. Take the EBASE survey now.

of Osteopathic Medicine (IJOM) includes a case report: 'Osteopathic approach to treating a patient with new onset low back pain following injury reveals unusual bilateral and symmetric symptoms' by Murray R Berkowitz, in the Clinical Practice Section.

You can access the full IJOM and six other high-quality professional journals offering a rich source of CPD via the o zone.

New photos available in online library for you to use

New professionally-shot photos, including osteopaths treating a range of different patients, are now available for you to use.

You can download images free of charge from the photo library on the GOsC website.

Have you taken part in the 2017 Census yet?
